Greetings from the Solid Waste Division President Lewis Berry:

The Solid Waste Board of Directors and I would like to welcome everyone to attend the 2022 Annual Solid Waste Conference at the Beaufort Hotel in Historic Beaufort, North Carolina. This year's conference is titled "Bouncing Back" as we celebrate the 65th Anniversary of the American Public Works Association.

I would like to thank each board member who has worked very hard on putting together our first conference since the Pandemic. Our board members are the engine driving our Solid Waste Division forward to many of our successes.

Followed by other topics such as Circular Economy, Procurement, and "Tell the Story" told by New Bern's PIO. We will also have the always popular speakers from NC DEACS discussing recycling programs and markets. Wrapping up day one with the crowd favorite 14th Annual Trashy Games.

We are looking forward to our partners' participation, their displays, product information and their continuing support of the APWA-NC Solid Waste Division. Our partners' support is crucial to the success of our conference. You are encouraged to visit each vendor and get to know your partners, their products, and the services that they provide.

Hurry and register, come down to the beach and enjoy! I look forward to seeing everyone there!

Conference Partnership opportunities are open and available for registration now online at <http://northcarolina.apwa.net/EventDetails/29340>. 2022 brings an exciting new range of partnership opportunities to even further recognize and highlight your company's support of this important and well-attended annual event:

Platinum Level Partners - $2,000

Platinum level partners are recognized as the premier conference partners. Platinum partners will receive preferred exhibitor space, up to three conference registrations, corporate names/logos in large scale at the top of each partner banner throughout the conference, listing in the conference program and special recognition by name at dinner and during entertainment.

Silver level partners are integral to a successful conference and will receive an assigned exhibitor space and one conference registration. Silver level partners will also see their corporate names/logos on partner banners at a size just below that of the Platinum and Gold level partners and in the conference program.

This year we are excited to present additional opportunities to those that commit to being a conference partner. This is a unique way to support the Solid Waste Division and promote your business even further.
