

The Stormwater Management Division Board is excited to announce that the Stormwater Professional of the Year Award will now be known as the H. Rooney Malcom Award, in honor of the late Dr. Herbert Rooney Malcom, Jr.

A leading practitioner and pioneer in the field of stormwater management and urban stormwater design, the late Dr. Herbert Rooney Malcom, Jr. touched the lives of many people through both his inspirational teaching and personal relationships. A North Carolina native, Dr. Malcom was a graduate of North Carolina State University where he received an undergraduate, master's degree, and doctorate in Civil Engineering. It was also at NC State where Dr. Malcom devoted himself to teaching for 31 years, retiring as Professor Emeritus in 2004. He taught classes in water resources, hydrology, hydraulics, and urban stormwater design and management. In addition to teaching and research, he also taught stormwater short courses to professionals in 23 states, led professional engineer exam reviews, and consulted extensively in North Carolina and other states.

Our board is proud to honor the legacy of Dr. Herbert Rooney Malcom, Jr. by renaming our annual stormwater professional of the year award on his behalf.

H. ROONEY MALCOM AWARD

One of the highlights of the Stormwater Management Division Annual Conference will be the recognition of a stormwater professional that stands out among their peers for exceptional leadership, innovation, agency service, customer service, community service, and contribution to their profession related to the stormwater field.

The Stormwater Management Division Board is now accepting nominees from the North Carolina stormwater community for individuals who fit the above description and who are current members of APWA-NC. Please use the enclosed application form to nominate someone that you believe is deserving of this recognition. The recipient will receive a commemorative plaque and be a guest at next year's Stormwater Management Division Conference.
